DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

I In claim 1 it is not clear that the subject receiving the treatment is in need of treatment. Amending the claim to recite "A method of treating a susceptible cancer in a human or animal subject in need thereof" will overcome this rejection.

In claims 1, 14, 15, 19, 20, 22 and 23 the language that is used to define the moieties is not consistent. This rejection can be overcome by amending the word "represents" to recite "is" where it appears throughout the claims.

In claims 1 and 14 the word "may" is confusing as to what the substituents are. Amending the word "may" to recite "is" where it appears in the claim will overcome this rejection.

In claims 8-10 the phrase "characterized by" is colloquial. Amending the claim to recite "in which there is" will overcome this rejection, if this is the intent of the applicants.

Claim 10 appears to be incomplete. It does not end with a period.

In claims 12, 14 the phrases "preferably" and "more preferable" render the claims indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrases are part of the claimed invention.

In claim 17 the phrases "(particularly...)" render the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrases are part of the claimed invention.

Art Unit: 1614

In claim 21 the phrase "and also for other optionally substituted groups include..." renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrases are part of the claimed invention.

The Markush recitations throughout claims 1, 13, 16, 17, 23 are incorrect. Amending the Markush recitations to recite "[the moiety] is selected from the group consisting of" and separating the penultimate word and the ultimate word of the recitation with the word "and" will overcome this rejection.

Claim 13 is confusing, since it is not seen that R³ is defined in claim 2. Amending the claim to delete "or claim 1" will overcome this rejection.

It is not clear if claims 2-23 are dependent claims. Dependent claims should be amended to begin with the word "The" to make their dependent status clear.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-23 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 30-32 of U.S. Patent No.

Art Unit: 1614

6,391,874 B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the reasons given in Paper No. 4.

It is noted that applicants state that they have overcome this rejection by the filing of a terminal disclaimer. However, it has not been received.

Conclusion

Applicants are requested to prior art or other considerations used in drafting the proviso in claim 1.
